

I am writing to ask that the FCC refrain from implementing any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. The passage of this law has had a significant impact on making my time at home more enjoyable. I used to receive about 10 calls per week during evenings and weekends that were solicitations for items which I had no interest in purchasing. Now I get maybe one every other week, and these are generally companies that I have made a charitable donation to in the past. The phone is now quiet, and I have no reservations about answering it when home. This has been an important protection of Indiana's citizens' privacy and quality of life. I believe that any Federal intervention in this case will be a disservice to myself and my neighbors. Please do not intervene in this instance. Thank you for your time.
